Wolfpack Word of the Month

“Friendship”

The new school year often means a fresh start for some people

Some of you have just moved to Middle School, some are new to our District, and some are even new to America.

One of the most important things with new beginnings is making new friends.

Some people find it easy to make friends

Others can find it tricky. If you are new it sometimes feels like everyone else has known each other forever! It can be bewildering to figure out at first, plus it's important to choose the right type of person for you.

Let's start by thinking about what a friend is:

Someone we feel close to Someone who cares about us

Someone we can trust

Spend 2 minutes discussing with the person next to you about other suggestions to add to

Friendship is also connected to self esteem

---

When we feel good about ourselves we are more likely to choose friends that are good for us.

“We teach people how to treat us”

So it makes sense that if we not feeling positive we may make wrong choices with the type of people we become friends with

What are the signs of a bad friend?

They may often:

- Criticize you

- Make fun of you

- Make all the decisions

Spend 2 minutes talking to the person next to you about other ideas to add to this list.

Watch this 3 minute video that looks at how friends can try to pressurize you

Talk to your child about how to recognize when he's being pressured.

How do you think you would have acted if your friend had encouraged you to do something bad?

Is it easy or hard to say no to a friend?

If you were lonely would you go along with it just to keep your friendship?

Was this person a good friend?

If you have time left, talk to the person next to you about your thoughts on the video.

Final thought!

The best time to make friends is before you need them.

– Ethel Barrymore

Thanks!

Joke of the day:

Why did the scarecrow win an award?

It was outstanding in its field.
