How will this work?

Everyone (but the teacher) will adopt the role of ghosts. Ghosts will move around while the teacher isn't looking at them. The teacher will be a ghost hunter. Ghosts must be moving somewhat frequently, but if caught by the teacher, the ghost will return to the world of the living and take a seat. Teachers will look in different directions, giving ghosts a chance to move.

November Career Focus

Monday 28th November there will be a series of career speakers here during Homeroom

Our speakers include:

Monday 28th: Hospital Physician

Are you a budding doctor? Do you have an interest in medicine? This is a great way to find out about a career in general medicine and working in a hospital, and what it's like to study to become a doctor.

Tuesday 29th: Graphic Designer

Are you creative? Do you like art or design? This is a chance to hear about one type of job in the creative field that includes designing brochures, logos, magazines and helping with advertising campaigns.

Wednesday 30th: Engineer (tech research)

Perfect for those of you that are interested in STEM or enjoy solving puzzles and problems. Our speaker has worked in Bluetooth technology, made sensors for fuel injection cars, went searching for a painting hidden in a wall in Florence, developed technology to fingerprint babies and helped develop faster tests for Covid!

Thursday 1st Dec: Satellite Engineer

Another fascinating STEM career. Find out what it takes to develop and design satellites as well as coordinate and oversee the manufacturing.

Friday 2nd: Business Person

Curious to hear about careers in the business world and what options there are? Our speaker has over 20 years experience in corporate America and worked on lots of projects involving management consulting, supply chain, purchasing/procurement, program management, and global commercial operations.

Information on how to sign up for these events will be available next week!
